FOREWORD. 1719217

After compiling the pioneer vital records of Hillsdale County, Michigan, my plan was to abstract the county Probate Records of the same period, to supplement the information contained in the former. I had completed only to the year 1852 when a change of residence to Chicago unexpectedly removed me from the source of supply, as it were. Therefore, I have indexed and put together these records as Volume I and shall leave those of the later fifteen years for a second volume to be compiled as soon as circumstances permit.

Although it seems to be impossible to avoid all errors in such a collection, I believe these to be accurately copied and fully indexed, and they have been checked over carefully. The typing is not all that could be desired as I had to do it myself and I am far from expert, but I hope that it is legible.
